Students Elect Dewey President In Mock Election Thursday

Debate Squad Faces Team From Europe

REGINALD GALER

RAY YEAGER

ANTHONY COX

ARIS ("Bob") MALLAS

Bowling Green is one of four Ohio colleges on the itinerary of a British debate team soon to tour the United States.

Ray Yeager and Bob Mallas, one of Bowling Green's varsity teams, will oppose Reginald Galer and Anthony Cox, both of England. "World Government" will serve as the topic for the non-decision debate.

After the debate Nov. 22, the British guests will attend a closed banquet to be held in their honor in the Falcon's Nest. Delta Gamma sorority house will be the scene of a closed reception held in honor of the visiting team the same day.

Violinist Fritz Kreisler Appears In Concert Tonight

The great Fritz Kreisler is coming to Bowling Green.

Appearing in the second program of the current artist series being presented to students of this campus, Mr. Fritz Kreisler, considered by many critics to be the world's greatest violinist, will give a concert tonight in the Men's Gym beginning at 8:15.

Mr. Kreisler was born in Vienna, the son of a distinguished physician, who was also an excellent amateur musician. He made his public debut in Vienna at the early age of 7. Shortly after this he entered the Vienna Conservatory of Music even though regulations stated that no one younger than fourteen be admitted.

His first American tour began in Boston on Nov. 8, 1888 and was a huge success, but on his return to Vienna he shocked the music world by announcing that he would give up the violin. For the next few years he studied medicine so that he could follow in his father's footsteps.

In 1899 he returned to the concert stage and from then on devoted his whole life to perfecting his artistry and giving his own amazing interpretations of the masters.

Tickets for the concert are still on sale in the well and can be secured by five cents and presentation of an Ac Card.

FRITZ KREISLER, violinist, will appear tonight at 8:15.

Governor Polls Total Of 697 Out Of 1,168

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was named campus choice for president of the United States in a Mock Election staged here last Thursday. Out of 1,168 votes cast, Dewey won 697.

Pres. Harry Truman placed second with 274 votes. Henry A. Wallace and Norman Thomas placed third and fourth respectively.

A Political Rally was held in the Main Auditorium last Wednesday. Featured were speakers of the four major parties.

Paul Ward of the Democratic Party stated that Franklin D. Roosevelt dispelled fear and brought "cradle to the grave security." He went on to say, "The Democrats are for civil rights, regardless of color or creed." Mr. Ward urged students to take an active interest in government affairs.

Mr. Ward was followed by Dr. Oliver S. Loud, chairman of the Ohio Progressive Party. Dr. Loud said that the need has arisen for a new political party to give political expression and to air the grievances of the people. He declared that his party wants "peace, freedom, and abundance."

Dr. Loud stated that the objects of his party are to keep the issues before the people, improve the composition of the 81st Congress, and to return politics to the people. He denied that his party seeks appeasement with Russia.

The Republican speaker, William O'Neill, speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives, spoke next. Said Mr. O'Neill, "The greatest danger is the apathy of the people toward issues, policies, and candidates." He said that the Republicans represent the best and most effective leadership for the people. "The Democrats are bogged down. They cannot work together," continued Mr. O'Neill. He also declared that Communists should not be appointed to government positions.

The fourth speaker was Harvey Taylor, chairman of the Indiana Socialist Party. Mr. Taylor declared that the price of lasting prosperity is a plan. He stated further that socialism is the way to end "boom to bust."

Mr. Taylor accused Mr. Dewey of having a set of platitudes and Mr. Truman of having two hates. "Mr. Truman hates supporters of the Taft-Hartley Law and high prices," continued Mr. Taylor. He also said that his party was against the condemnation of people because of association.

Each man was allowed 20 minutes in which to speak and afterward had a five minute restatement and rebuttal period. The Rally ended with a question and answer session.

Party representatives urged students to take an active part in political and governmental affairs.

WSSF To Launch New Drive

Dr. Walter A. Zaugg is scheduled to address all Dormitory Drive Chairmen of the World Student Service Fund at a meeting tomorrow evening at 6:30 in 308A.

This is the second in a series of weekly meetings being conducted by the WSSF campus committee, preparatory to the drive set for the week of Jan. 3.

During an organization meeting of the DDC held last Thursday, Miss Joanne Malinkowski reminded the 25 members present that they were the "key people" of the WSSF at Bowling Green State University. "You are the students who will take back the WSSF message to your dormitories. You represent the only contact between WSSF and the organized residences," she declared.

Miss Malinkowski, campus drive chairman, revealed that the University of Athens has been selected as the protege institution for the BGSU drive. Of this year's $2,000 WSSF goal, therefore, the University of Athens will receive approximately half of the funds collected. The remaining half will be earmarked for the general fund, according to National WSSF headquarters.

Mrs. Lee Hafkin, WSSF publicity chairman, asked the DDC to be fully informed on the meaning and purpose of WSSF.

"Public relations means relations with the public. Be firm but not belligerent in trying to sell your classmates the idea of helping students overseas. That's good public relations."

The WSSF planning committee, in addition to Miss Malinkowski and Mrs. Hafkin, includes: Muffi Casini, Sal Guidice, Roger Warner, Bob Kusmer, and Bob Rhoades.

Representatives of the 19 dormitories who sent delegates and five off-campus DDC are:

Martha Ann Watt, Alpha Gamma Delta; Don Stevenson, Alpha Tau Omega; Virginia Stimson, Alpha Xi Delta; Mary Anne McGuire, Chi Omega; Frank Seitz, Delta Tau Delta; Bobbie Whitelaw, Gamma Phi Beta; Fred J. Talento, Jr., Gamma Theta Nu; Dolores G. Hoks, Johnston Hall; Lois Reed, Kappa Delta.

Key Allots Space To Each Organization

Space in the 1949 Key has been allotted to each campus organization this year, rather than designated by the organization as in the past.

According to Business Manager Al Rosenberg, the reason for this move is to maintain uniformity throughout the book. It will eliminate large organizations purchasing half pages and small groups purchasing full pages.

Contracts have been mailed to each campus organization and must be returned to the Key office on or before the date scheduled for the taking of the group picture.

There have been some changes in the original schedule, due to the Fritz Kreisler concert on Wednesday, Nov. 3. Groups scheduled for pictures after 8 that evening have been changed to Nov. 8. The revised schedule is on page 2.

The off-campus representatives are: Barbara Bates, Shirley A. Spoon, Lila Lesnick, John McAuliffe, and Emma Lou Rubloff.

Nest Fire Totals $100

A flash fire in an oven flue caused slight damage Monday in the Falcon's Nest. At 11:50 an alarm was turned in by Mrs. Blanche Blair, manager of the counter, which brought the fire department to the scene in two minutes time.

Damage estimated at $100 was confined to the ventilating system and the motor located above the large ovens in the kitchen.

Firemen used a chemical extinguisher to put out the blaze in short order. The manager of the Student Union, Mrs. William Wright, is in New York City at present, but reporters were told that a spark ignited the accumulated grease in the flue and flames were soon spouting through the outlet on the roof.

Randolph Renk, maintenance engineer, is compiling information pertinent to the damage at this time preparatory to insurance claims.

Eyas Deadline Set For Dec. 1

Contributions for Eyas, student literary magazine, will be accepted until Dec. 1, according to Editor Bill Lieser. The first semester issue will go on sale after Christmas vacation.

Students wishing to submit work for publication may include essay, poetry, drama, fiction, art, and photography. Material may be left in the Eyas box in the English Bldg. or given to members of the staff.

Senate O. K.'s Fraternity, Three Clubs

Four new organizations approved by Student Senate Monday night are Sigma Psi Omega, social fraternity; Student Business Association, departmental club; Promenaders, recreational organization; and Booster Club, whose purpose is "to foster school spirit."

According to a new rule by Steering Committee, this latest petitioning fraternity must wait two years before it can be recognized by Inter-fraternity Council.

The purpose of SBA, according to its constitution, is to create an association of business students, "whereby their interests may be expanded and gratified by a program of group participation in forums, informational speaker presentations, and other projects deemed advisable."

Membership is open only to men in the departments of business administration and economics who have an accumulative 2.2 average after obtaining at least 60 hours of credit.

Promenaders, student square dance club, was organized "to promote the learning of square dancing, to provide recreational facilities for its members, and to assist in sponsoring all-campus square dances."

Second Campus Play To Be Given Dec. 8-11

"Family Portrait," the University Theatre's second major production which will be given Dec. 8 through 11, is now in full rehearsal. Try-outs were concluded early this week after much deliberation over the large cast.

The play is the story of the family of Jesus. It begins in Nazareth, where Jesus has just left to begin his life work, and where His remaining brothers understand only that he has left them in the height of the building season.

Bee Gee News Survey Shows Columns And Features Lead Reader Interest

By A. L. McClain
(Editor's note: A reader survey of the Bee Gee News was made recently by the students of Prof. Clyde Parker's Press Management class. Faculty members as well as students were interviewed. Listed herein are some of the more interesting observations made from the Oct. 6 edition.)

"Sports In Shorts," a column for women who play games in shorts caught the men in their when 25 per cent of the males interviewed admitted they read the column.

One per cent remained somewhat bare when they confessed reading the Kay-Ann beauty shop

The dog story on page one with the headline, "Poodle Suspect In Catnap Case," had the highest readership, and it is interesting to note that more women read the cigarette ads than men. Anyone surprised?

The popular column, "Dire Consequences" informing the student body of such epoch events as—who pinned who under a dim street light, the Nest and why it is cluttered, polled 10 per cent more women readers than men. All of which may easily prove the "over the back yard fence" type of column is very close to the women who literally will lean over those same fences in the future.

"With The Falcons," a sports column by the sports editor T. J. Loomis, had the highest readership among the men.

"Kil O'Cycle," a radio news column, proved to be very low in watts, and its author has promised "to juice it up in the future."

A picture of Vernita M. Lanning in a bathing suit, and referred to as "cheese cake" in the journalistic jargon, ran true to form—more men saw the picture than women.

Some suggestions were: for more pictures, a return to the art columns, and a bi-weekly paper.

Preferential Ballot...

We believe that Article VI of the Student Senate Constitution which states that all campus and class officer elections shall be held by secret preferential ballot should be amended.

The preferential ballot is where the voter lists the candidates in order of his preference. In some of the past elections, students have been asked to vote for all of the candidates and in some of the elections, only five or six. If the ballot is not marked according to the directions, it is invalid.

In preferential balloting, a candidate who receives the largest number of votes on the first ballot is not necessarily assured of winning the election. If a candidate does not receive the majority on the first ballot, the candidate with the least number of votes is eliminated and his second place votes are then distributed among the other candidates and added to their totals. This continues until one man eventually becomes the winner. This system is complicated to the voters and tedious to students who count the ballots.

In all elections, except those for Key Queen (where more than one is to be selected) we believe that the single choice ballot might better be used. The preferential ballot may be better where there is a small group and the voters know all the candidates, but where there are 4,500 students, it is impracticable. The average voter is lucky if he knows half of the candidates that run for office in an election at Bowling Green.

It is evident that students do not vote preferentially. When an election is held and a member of an organization votes, he first votes for his organization's candidate and then he fills out the rest of the ballot with those names that he believes will get the least number of votes, and not the candidate that he believes is the second best person for the office.

Preferential voting proves to be more democratic when there is a possibility that one organization may be able to have their candidate elected by giving him their first place votes. This candidate may be ahead on the first ballot and when the second ballot is counted, the candidate may lose out entirely. But this is an impossibility at Bowling Green and no organized group can do this because those groups that are well organized are small and constitute a minority.

When the number of voters is small and the voter has a chance to vote preferentially, the preferential ballot is more logical, but at Bowling Green we believe that preferential balloting causes nothing but confusion and wasted time and that the single choice ballot should be used.

Fritz Kreisler...

The appearance of Fritz Kreisler tonight in the Men's Gym marks a milestone in the various artists' series given down through the years.

There are many great violinists but only one Kreisler and anyone who passes up the opportunity to hear this great musician play is only hurting himself. He has been acclaimed throughout the world for his genius and has known fame since his teen-age years in Austria when he startled continental music lovers with his superb interpretation of the old masters.

Tonight's performance, not to mention the whole artist series, is a definite part of your college career. It will help to teach you the enjoyment and beauty derived from great music as played by a man who ranks as one of the greatest violinists the world has ever known.

The fact that all you have to do is secure a ticket for tonight's program is to present a nickel and your Ac Card is something to think about. It is a real opportunity for every student on campus.

DON'T MISS KREISLER PROGRAM

Thomas Curtis Gives Organ Recital Sunday

Thomas Curtis, new instructor in organ, will give his first recital before the student body Sunday, Nov. 7, at 8:15 p.m. in the Main Auditorium.

Besides his part-time teaching job here, Mr. Curtis is an associate minister, organist, and choir-master at the Washington Congregational Church, Toledo.

Before assuming his present positions, Mr. Curtis held organ positions in Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts and was pastor of the First Congregational Church in Boxford, Mass.

He received his education at Duke University, the University of Michigan, and Boston University School of Theology.

Commenting on his recital work, reviewers have agreed that it is characterized by "technical dexterity and excellent musicianship" (Pennsylvania) and "high artistic attainment" (Rhode Island).

The program includes the Noel in G Major by Louis Claude Daquin; Toccata for the Elevation by Girolamo Frescobaldi; Three Chorale Preludes, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," "Sleepers, Awake: A Voice is Calling," "I Call to Thee, Lord Jesus Christ" by Johann Sebastian Bach, the "Prelude and Fugue in D Major" by Bach, "Londonderry Air" by Anton Voderinski, "Improvisation on 'Beatitudo'" by Leon Verrees, "Dreams" by Hugh McAmis, "The Squirrel" by Powell Weaver, and "Tu es Petra" by Henri Mulet.

Admission is free to both students and public.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

It seems to me that John Fay could find enough to report that he wouldn't have to include such criticism, which he isn't qualified to make, in his column as appeared Oct. 27 about "Ah, Wilderness!" and Dick Bauman in particular.

If John were a qualified critic it wouldn't be so bad, but to judge and base his article on one night's performance is hardly fair. Most of those who saw the play and those of us who worked backstage think that all the cast did a superb job and seen no reason to single out that particular trio for comment. The fact that Dick did such a terrific job of characterizing a 17-year-old in 1906 and not a 17-year-old of 1948 is to his credit as was his being Dick Miller and not Dick Bauman; it makes a difference between overacting and being natural to the day and age. What was natural then would naturally seem put on and affected now, but why say he gave an inadequate performance? I believe this is an unjustifiable statement. I sincerely doubt if anyone in the full house Friday or Saturday night felt he played his role inadequately.

I could say more, but I won't for I'm no critic either.

Falcon Heights Executives

Falcon Heights Is Ohio's Most Unique Community

By Jim Sponseller

One of the newest items in the way of towns in Ohio lies a few hundred yards north of the campus. It is the trailer village of Falcon Heights which is actually governed by a mayor and five councilmen and is financed by no more than a single "coke" machine.

"This job of mayor has given me lots of headaches during my first month in office," said Mayor Bob Chambers. But there seemed to be no snow capping the peak of the 25-year-old Sandusky student-public servant because of worry. His current civic headache is to start a co-operative grocery within the village to eliminate hiking uptown for the basic grocery needs.

The "people's choices" as councilmen are Mort Edgington, Wayne Connor, Jim Galloway, Dick Mamoux, and Dan Rasset.

There are no local police, judicial body, constitution, or ordinances, but just the same the civil officials gather in Mayor Chambers' chambers (trailer) whenever the need for organized action arises.

Last week the council cleared up the traffic hazards in town. "There were two accidents here last winter," explained the Mayor. Cars going through town in different directions at the same time just wouldn't do, so "one way traffic" signs were erected by the Service Department (Mayor and Councilmen).

Most big-time political maneuvers are plotted in smoke-filled rooms but in Falcon Heights it was a clothes-filled room of the Municipal Laundry. It was there that the political rally and final election of the second administration took place. Last year the village's first mayoralty race was won by Kenneth Graves of Lorain, O.

When asked about the population of Falcon Heights, Mayor Chambers simply multiplied the 73 trailers by one husband and one wife, added a few offspring and made a guesstimate of 155 citizens. Falcon Heights contains only trailers owned by the federal government. Trailers along Ridge St., known as Ridge Terrace, are privately owned.

Falcon Heights claims to be the only community in the world with a "coke" machine as its lone source of income. In fact, they have incurred such surplus in their treasury that the council voted last week to throw a Halloween picnic.

In a few years the passing of the veteran and his family will undoubtedly turn Falcon Heights into a ghost town. For the present, the Honorable Mayor Bob Chambers and his council are striving to give its citizens the "best darn government it ever had."

Falcon Marching Band

THE UNIVERSITY MARCHING BAND, under the direction of Arthur Zuelke, is pictured above in formation at one of the recent games. In addition to performing at all the games, they also have become a part of the campus pep rallies. A feature on the band's activities will appear in next week's News.

Piano Recital Planned Friday Oil Painters Display Work

Ann Marley, Assistant Professor of Music, will give a piano recital Friday evening at 8:15 in the PA Auditorium. This is the second in a series of faculty recitals to be presented this year.

In addition to some standard Bach, Brahms, and Chopin numbers, the program will consist of a number of modern compositions. Some of these numbers will be by the Russian composers Kabalevsky and Khachaturian which were composed as recently as 1945.

Miss Marley was graduated from Northwestern University and this is her first year at Bowling Green.

Oil paintings now on display in the west wing of the Commons were recently completed by members of the beginning class in oil painting which is taught by Karl Richards, art instructor.

Only a few of the best pictures are on display now, but the Art Dept. plans to make this a permanent exhibit including at least twelve paintings at all times.

As new paintings are completed, they will replace the older ones. Mr. Richards expects the later pictures to show noticeable improvement in the work of each student.

Venus and Apollo

IRIS IRWIN

Alpha Chi Omega's canine legacy, "Katrinka" is a dachshund pup owned by Miss Eloise Whitwer, assistant professor of biology here at Bowling Green. Katrinka has already attended a sorority meeting where her name was included in the roll call. A place card was awaiting her at their Founder's Day banquet, though she was unable to attend. Her "big sister" is Helen Geeting, chosen because she was highest bidder at a house auction.

Much of the delight of the Alpha Gamma Deltas on Saturday, Oct. 22, the Pi Kappa Alpha pledges, with pails and mops, made the sorority's lounge clean and shining for the weekend.

Kappa Delta sorority will hold initiation Nov. 6. Those who will become actives are Luella Klinect, Barbara Kuhn, Carol Walters, and Iris Irwin.

Gamma Phi Beta sorority's traveling secretary, Miss Mary Jane Hipp, recently visited the local Beta Gamma chapter here on campus.

Chi Omegas enjoyed a spaghetti dinner cooked by the Kappa Sigmas last week. A five-piece combo furnished background music for the meal.

Fraternity Row enjoyed a serenade Tuesday evening, Oct. 26, given by the Alpha Chi Omegas.

In honor of their becoming national, the Delta Tau Deltas were entertained by the Sigma Rho Tau sorority Friday evening, Oct. 29. A Halloween scene formed the background decoration. Entertainment featured the sorority's recently formed "Jug Band."

Alpha Gamma Deltas Mary Green was serenaded by the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, Tuesday evening, Oct. 19. The songsters were invited in for coffee and sandwiches afterward.

The Sigma Chis were again busy over the weekend. Friday night the Sigs held a Halloween party at the house and then traveled to Findlay Saturday night for the football game. Last Wednesday, representatives of the Republican Party who participated in the mock political rally at the University were dinner guests at the Sigma Chi house.

Even at the college level Halloween has its significance. Phi Delta fraternity patterned its desert party for the Alpha Phi sorority on a Halloween theme. The party was held at the Phi Delta house last Friday evening with Bill Humphrey handling the affair.

Sigma Nu has decorated the house in a Halloween fashion for their party also held Friday. Al Delau, Dick Murphy, and Tom Miller were in charge of activities including a treasure hunt.

First official visitors to the Beta Sigma's new residence, "Ivy Hall," were the Chi Omegas who were invited in after their serenade last Tuesday.

Pledges taken into fraternities last week are:

Alpha Tau Omega—Dean Barnicle, Dick Doll, Don Sazima, Bob Hughes, Paul Hower, Buzz Biazzo, and Don Sweigard.

Pi Kappa Alpha—Fred Jeske, C. J. Westhoven, James Miller, Tom Beech, Ken Francis, Howard Wheeler, Jack Fischrupp, Bob Whetstone, Jerry Henderson, Ron Everett, Keith Moorhead, Don Wade, and Marcus Barbour.

More pledges next week.

International Party

The party took the form of a Talent Night with students from foreign countries doing a stunt, singing a song, etc. Those who sang, danced, or played a musical instrument were: Orlando Wong, China; Albert Goh, Malaya; Grayce Liu, Shanghai; Anna Louise Krieger, Mexico; Gilbert Greiner, France; Patricia and Phyllis Wigle, Canada; Nuria McKay and Francisco Ruiz, Panama; Constance Ching, Hawaii; and Letitia Carles, Panama.

The Talent Party was the first social function of the World Student Association, a campus organization which was mentioned recently in the New York Times.

Full Weekend Includes Recital, Square Dance

A square dance sponsored by the Promenader's Club will be held Friday evening from 9-12 in the Women's Bldg. This is the first campus function to be sponsored by the new organization.

Also on the calendar for Friday is a piano recital by Miss Ann Marley, assistant professor in the Music Dept. It will begin at 8 in the PA Auditorium.

Saturday evening an all-campus Game Night will be held in the Rec Hall from 9-12. Sponsored by the Freshman Social Sub-Committee, the program for the event includes games, prizes, refreshments, and dancing.

The Social Committee announces that movies for this weekend will be shown in the Main Auditorium instead of the PA Auditorium. They will begin at 7 and 9 as usual.

Scheduled for Friday is "Her Primitive Man" starring Louise Albritton and Robert Paige. Saturday's movie is "Knickerbocker Holiday" with Nelson Eddy and Charles Coburn.

Campus elections of the last few weeks brought about "queens," a "president for a day," and also much discourse on the type of ballot used to choose the candidates. It is from the latter that the weekly question was originated, "What is your opinion of the preferential ballot?"

"I don't care for it," stated Christine Gerhardt, a sophomore from Dayton, "this way of balloting is unfair to candidates. In the form that is used now no one can vote for just the person he wants. I would rather be able to vote for a single candidate."

Christine Gerhardt

John Rodefer, a second semester freshman who transferred from West Liberty State College, W. Va., thought that it was a very fair way of balloting. He said, "It seems that some fraterni-

"It seems like a very democratic way of voting," stated Adolph Cobas, a student from Panama in his second year here. Continuing Mr. Cobas said, "It gives the student more opportunity to express his desires, if he voted for just one his choice would be limited."

Curled up in her favorite chair, and knitting another pair of loud argyles, Mary Martha Buchanan looked the picture of the typical coed. Only after a talk with her, one finds she has gained much more out of college than "just getting by."

The senior from Lima, and President of AWS finds college life becomes more interesting as she carries out her responsibilities in extra-curricular work.

Majoring in Elementary Education, Mar, as she is more popularly tagged, plans to teach awhile and then get her masters degree in English.

The former program chairman and present social service chairman of Kappa Phi, Methodist women's club, has been active in many other groups. She is also a member of Book and Motor, Kappa Delta Pi, and marshall of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Her trip to the Eastern Regional conference of the international Association of Women Students at Cornell University last spring was very worthwhile, she felt. "I found that Bee Gee's set up is far superior to other campuses of our size and is much like those functioning on large campuses."

Reading, knitting, and listening to great music fill in her spare minutes. Her desire to write children's books and stories resulted from an early distaste of some of the books given to her as a child.

Inside Bowling Green

By John Fay

Exclusive—Top officials in the Administration were non-committal Monday morning about the sanction of any possible post-season Bowl games for the undefeated Falcons. Speculation on this subject arose after reports were published in the Toledo Times and Bowling Green Sentinel Tribune stating that BG was being considered for the Cigar Bowl in Tampa, Fla., and the Glass Bowl in Toledo.

The boys at North Dorm are to be congratulated on their fine snack bar. Since they are a good distance from the Nest it is quite convenient to have sandwiches and coffee right at the dorm, especially in bad weather.

There is lots of news from the Prof. Frederick G. Walsh household. The stork dropped in for a visit and left a baby boy over the weekend. A future Tiger fan, no doubt. Prof. Walsh has also sold a one-act play he wrote during his summer vacation to a New York

Theatre group. Right now he is finishing a new three-act full-length play which will be given by the University Theatre sometime around the first of the year. I imagine it will all come out in the "walsh" about that time.

Well, this is a badly mangled columnist signing off this week. I have come to the conclusion that speech students can put someone in the dog house quicker than anyone I know. So as I sit down to a steaming hot dish of dog-food topped off with some pupp biscuits for desert—it's still T.T.F.N.

Fred Marsh's Freshmen Gridders Win Opening Tilt

Play Ohio University
Friday In Road Game

The Bowling Green freshman football team played a lack lustre game at Ypsilanti Thursday, but had enough to beat the Michigan Normal Frosh, 25-7.

The Marshmen broke the scoring ice early by converting a Normal fumble into six points. Tackle Bill Bumbra got the loose ball on the Ypsi 9 and Paul Shartzter went over for the TD on the first play. The try for the point was missed.

Ollie Glass, Elyria center, set up the next BG score by hauling down a Huron pass and carrying to their 26. Jim Workens circled end for the marker. Dick Owens added the point.

The Hurons registered their lone touchdown shortly after intermission on a 23-yard pass following recovery of a Bowling Green fumble.

Shartzter brought back a Normal punt 17 yards to the 38 and six plays later, Dick Pont of Canton plunged over from the one with the third BG counter. The point attempt was missed.

The final tally came in the last quarter and Shartzter was also responsible for this one. The Napoleon halfback gathered in a Marion-Rossi pass for a 37-yard gain, and then scored a 30-yard run. Again Owens failed to convert.

On Friday, Fred Marsh's charges journey to Athens where they will meet what is classed as the most promising Ohio U. freshman team in several years. The Bobcat Frosh are fresh from two triumphs, having downed Ohio Wesleyan, 24-7, and West Virginia, 13-0. Their roster is dotted with many players who received various conference and state honors last year.

Boston Rookie Enrolls Here

Johnny Antonelli, the $75,000 pitching package picked up by the Boston Braves last summer out of Rochester, N. Y., is devoting his off season time to college work at Bowling Green.

Young Johnny makes the second 4,525 Bee Gee enrollment. His older brother, Tony, is a junior and reserve fullback on the undefeated Falcon football squad.

Besides his keen diamond ability, Johnny has a strong interest for music and is taking two basic courses in this department in addition to the other required first year work. He also has been selected to sing with the university A Cappella choir.

Johnny, a three-sport man at Jefferson High in Rochester, will not participate in athletics here. However, he will use the university physical education facilities to keep in top physical condition.

Antonelli will be in school only the first semester as he must be in the Braves' Bradenton, Florida, training camp on Mar. 1.

Independent Teams Have Grid Playoffs

Independent football teams will play off this week and next in an effort to capture more points for their overall total toward the Intramural Athletic Championship.

First place teams in the three leagues will battle it out in one bracket, second place teams in another, etc.

Because of the three way tie in League III, these teams will play off first and the winner will meet the victor of the League I-League II contest.

Regular Play Completed By Independents

KP's and Jay-Els are the Independent Football champions of Leagues I and II while a triple tie occurs in League III among IAB's, Stadium Club, and the Wildmen.

KP's captured first place in League I by edging the Newman Club, 6-2, last week. The unbeaten winners grabbed their fifth game when Doug Dodd caught a long, third period pass in the end zone.

Newman Club dropped into a second place tie with the Packers who whitewashed the Owls, 6-0. Ray Sell racked up in the TD. The two runners-up finished with three wins, one loss, and a tie.

Six Horsemen took fourth position by dumping the North Dorm Buckeyes, 13-6. The Bucks finished fifth and the winless Owls were left in the cellar.

Leo Maher tallied twice as the Jay-Els tamed the last place Cubs, 19-0, to take the title in League II. It was the victors' fifth win.

Hut H battered the fifth place Wildcats, 20-0, to hang on to the second rung and the Bee Wingers completely disarmed the Buzz Bombs, 31-6, with the week's highest scoring total to edge out the Bombs for third.

IAB's racked up the Stadium Club, 28-0, throwing the League III finish into a three way tie. Rocco Apicello counted a pair of touchdowns.

Sigma Chi and Sigma Nu touch football teams remained at the top of their respective Fraternity Leagues by marking up convincing victories Saturday.

Sigma Chi remained undefeated and unscored on in League I by beating Theta Chi, 14-0, for their fourth win. Bud Flegle scored both touchdowns while Chuck Share and Walt Bartlett added the extra points.

Unbeaten Sigma Nu, League II leader, thumped Chi Alpha 19-6. Their record is three wins and a tie. Bill Stier, Ken Sailer, and Fred Hart tallied for the winners while Viovide scored for Chi Alpha.

Kappa Sigma is also undefeated in League II but has only one victory and two ties.

Lloyd Pearson scored twice as Phi Delta whipped Alpha Tau Omega, 21-6. Pi Theta blanked Delta Tau Delta, 13-0, Coppack getting both touchdowns.

Pi Kappa Alpha shut out Zeta Beta Tau, 12-0, and took over the runner-up spot in League I with a 4-1 record. Cook and Dickson crossed the goal line.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon rolled over Beta Sigma, 25-0, and now shares third position with Gamma Theta N. Otten, Peak, Provost, and Penisi scored the TDs.

Falcons Hope To Make Flashes Seventh Victim

By Gene Dinkel

Saturday afternoon the undefeated and untied football warriors of Bowling Green will come up against a vengeful Kent State eleven on the latter's gridiron.

Kent suffered its first loss of the season last weekend to the Youngstown Penguins, 19-7. Up until then the Golden Flashes had a record of four wins and a tie.

Veterans Return For Wrestling

Bowling Green wrestling coach Bob Leiman expects an improvement this year over last season's green squad which gained three victories and one tie in 10 meets. Only two members of that aggregation had previous wrestling experience.

Most of the candidates have been conditioning for four weeks. Jack Woodland, Bud Schie, and Don Verduin are slated to start working out after the football season.

Other prospects on whom Leiman is counting heavily are Ray Florian, 165-pounder who last year placed second in the Northeastern Ohio AAU meet and fourth in the nationals; last year's captain, Carmel Benito; his brother Antone; Merle Shade; Bob Rehark; and Pete Boyd. C. Benito, Shade, and Boyd are seniors.

The schedule is as yet incomplete but will consist of ten meets including such opponents as Kent State, Waynesburg, and Case. Plans are also underway to enter the team in several tournaments.

Anyone interested in joining the squad is invited to report to the gym at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday or to get in touch with Bob Leiman in the athletic office.

Bowling Green, riding the crest of a six game win streak, will be looking for that seventh victory. Standing in their way the Falcons will find a good Kent State team. KSU will surely be seeking revenge for the 21-18 setback it suffered in the closing minutes of last year's game.

Bee Gee will have a rough time keeping track of fleet-footed Wilbur "Wib" Little, All-Ohio halfback. Little was slightly injured in the Western Reserve game. Up until that contest, he had an average yards gained per try of 7.9. It's a good bet that the elusive back will be ready for the Bowling Green game.

Kent also has dangerous backs in passer Jerry Tuttle and shifty halfback Bob Pease. On the line the Flashes have Captain George Kovalick, hard-hitting lineman; guard Frank Mesek, a two-time all-Ohio man; and another guard, Lou Federico, who gained all-Ohio recognition at Oberlin in 1944.

Bowling Green should be given a slight edge over Kent, but it will be the Staters' Homecoming, and that means anything can happen.

The Falcon squad may be in top shape and at full strength, providing Jack Woodland is off the injury list.

RIFLE AND PISTOL CLUB

The Rifle and Pistol Club meets every Wednesday night at 7. The basic aim of the club, says President Earl Ott, "is to acquaint its members with the use of small arms."

Composed of 35 members and with openings for many more, the team prepares for its inter-collegiate meets on the range in the basement of the PA Bldg.

Findlay Oilers Downed, 28-7, As Substitutes Take Over

Little Opposition Given By Old Rivals

By Bob Sullivan

Bowling Green's gridmen proved to their basketball brothers that they too deserve the title of "high-flying Falcons" as they bowled over the Findlay Oilers 28-7 Saturday night in Findlay's Donnell Stadium.

On the first play from scrimmage Busa fumbled, but the ball was recovered on the 17 by Mike the Findlay fullback. On second down the Falcons were caught off guard with a quick kick that rolled out on the BG 31.

A punting duel between Maples and Findlay's Busa and Werley ended with the Oilers penetrating to the Falcon 38. Findlay took to the air, but was able to pick up only two yards. Busa kicked over the goal and BG took the ball on its own 20.

Antonelli picked up eight, then Minnich went around right end for one. On the next play, with five minutes gone in the first period, Maples passed to Schnelker in the end zone for the first Bowling Green tally. Ed Simmons made the conversion and the Falcons led 7-0.

Bee Gee hit the line but couldn't advance the ball. Maples again booted to the Oilers' territory on the 38. Findlay took to the air but was forced to kick on its own 32. Pete Schmidt, on the next play, took the ball on the BG 34 and raced 66 yards with perfect blocking to a second Bowling Green TD. Simmons' conversion was good and the score was BG

14, Findlay 0.

Hal Dunham kicked off for BG and sent the ball to the two yard line; Busa returned it to the 16. On the first play Busa attempted a pass, but was thrown for a nine yard loss. Busa again took the ball, but fumbled and the ball was recovered by Ed Kuntz, Falcon tackle, on the two.

Schaetzke went off tackle and picked up one. Then Schmidt hit the center for pay dirt. Simmons' conversion was good and BG led 21-0.

An exchange of punts gave Bowling Green the ball on its own 47. The Falcons started a touch-down drive as Minnich picked up five and Schmidt gathered three. Lash, on a fake punt, advanced the ball to the 33 and a first down.

In two plays Schaetzke picked up seven. Antonelli made two, then Lash brought the ball to the 20 and another first.

With seven minutes left in the third period Lash threw to Vern Dunham in the end zone for the Falcons' last score. Simmons made his fourth conversion of the night making the score 28-0.

From that point on, most of the game was played within the 30 yard markers. With two minutes left to play Werley intercepted a pass from Bob Puchalla on the 40, and ran to the Falcon 23.

Wortman hit the center for three on the next play Timonere threw to Wortman on the five who went over for Findlay's lone tally. Carter made the extra point good and the final score stood at 28-7.

Swimming Team To Begin Practice Nov. 15; December Intersquad Meet To Open Season

The swimming team will start practice Nov. 15 in preparation for the season which opens a month later with an intersquad meet.

Even though the team was hit by spring graduations, losing such men as Chuck Joyce and Jay Vasterling, the prospects are good with a group from last year's freshman team counted on to help take up the gap.

There are sixteen returning lettermen to form the nucleus of a squad which includes such seasoned performers as: Bob Ruth, diver; Charles Parsons, free styler; and Fred Kline, breast stroker.

Some hopefuls from last year's freshman team that are labeled "can't miss" are: Harry Fox, breast stroke; Lee Koenig, back stroke; and Charles Woodfill, free styler.
